STATE OF MAINE.

PENOBSCOT ss., Court of Insolvency.

In the case of Adelbert L. Orr, Insolvent Debtor.

Notice is hereby given that a petition has, on this thirty-first day of January, A. D. 1883 been presented to said Court for said County, by Adelbert L. Orr of Milton, in the County of Penobscot, praying that he may be decreed to have a full discharge from all his debts provable under the Insolvent Act of the State of Maine, approved February 21st, 1878, and the amendments thereof, and upon said petition, it is ordered by said Court that a hearing be had upon the same before said Court, at the Probate Court Room in Bangor, in said County of Penobscot, on Thursday, the fifteenth day of February, A. D. 1883, at ten o'clock in the forenoon; and that notice thereof be published in the Bangor Daily Whig & Courier, a newspaper published in said County of Penobscot, once a week for two successive weeks, the last publication to be two days at least before the day of hearing; and that all creditors who have proved their debts, and other persons interested, may appear at said place and time and show cause, if any they have, why a discharge should not be granted said Debtor, according to the prayer of his petition.

A Good Odd Fellow.

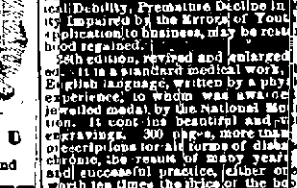

Mr. Cutler, of 21 Lyons St., New Haven, Conn.—How He takes Life Easy now and how he obtained the Means to Regain his Health.

Mr. Cutler, of 21 Lyons St., is a faithful Odd Fellow, and for forty years a member of Quinipiac Lodge No. 1 (the oldest organization of its kind in the State of Conn.). He is a man much respected in New Haven. Your reporter found him at his pleasant home on Lyons street one afternoon, taking life easy. "You see," he says, "I'm trying to make myself feel a little independent. I presume it's the lingering results of a Lodge dinner which I attended a while ago down at the beach. I have been, as many of my friends in New Haven know, a sufferer for years from indigestion and biliousness. When I have indulged in too hearty food I've had to suffer at times extremely. As a result I've had to place myself under my physician's care often, and I've taken a great many remedies, but I find after a thorough trial that Dr. Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY is the most excellent medicine I have ever had knowledge of for any of the disorders above mentioned. It leaves no exhaustive effects, but rather strengthens and regulates the digestive organs in a charming manner. We keep it as a household medicine, and I have recommended it to my friends, for it is an excellent preparation."

Mr. Cutler is a man whose word can be depended upon. His testimony is but an echo of the words of thousands in New England who have received relief from the sole use of Dr. Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY.

MANHOOD.

KNOW THYSELF.

A Book for Every Man!

Young, Middle-aged and Old!

The untold miseries that result from indiscretion in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; or, Self-Preservation. Exhausted Vitality, Nervous and Physical Debility, Premature Decline in Man, or Vitality Impaired by the Errors of Youth, or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

25th edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. 300 pages, more than 125 valuable prescriptions for all forms of diseases, acute and chronic, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in beautiful French cloth, embossed, full gilt. Price only $1.25, by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price. Illustrated sample six cents. Send now.

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; OR, SELF-PRESERVATION,

is beyond all comparison the most extraordinary work on Physiology ever published. There is nothing whatever that the married or single can either require or wish to know but what is fully explained.—London Lancet.

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; OR, SELF-PRESERVATION, is a marvel of art and beauty, warranted to be a better medical book in every sense than can be obtained elsewhere for double the price, or the money will be refunded in every instance.—[Author.

N. B.—YOUNG and MIDDLE AGED MEN can save much time, suffering and expense by reading the Science of Life, or consulting with the author, who may be consulted on all diseases requiring skill and experience. Address

AYER'S PILLS.

A large proportion of the diseases which cause human suffering result from derangement of the stomach, bowels, and liver. AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS act directly upon these organs, and are especially designed to cure the diseases caused by their derangement, including Constipation, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Headache, Dysentery, and a host of other ailments, for all of which they are a safe, sure, prompt, and pleasant remedy. The extensive use of these PILLS by eminent physicians in regular practice, shows unmistakably the estimation in which they are held by the medical profession.

These PILLS are compounded of vegetable substances only, and are absolutely free from calomel or any other injurious ingredient.

A Sufferer from Headache writes:

"AYER'S PILLS are invaluable to me, and are my constant companion. I have been a severe sufferer from Headache, and your PILLS are the only thing I could look to for relief. One dose will quickly move my bowels and free my head from pain. They are the most effective and the easiest physic I have ever found. It is a pleasure to me to speak in their praise, and I always do so when occasion offers.

W. L. PAGE, of W. L. Page & Bro."

Franklin St., Richmond, Va., June 3, 1882.

"I have used AYER'S PILLS in number less instances as recommended by you, and have never known them to fail to accomplish the desired result. We constantly keep them on hand at our home and prize them as a pleasant, safe, and reliable family medicine. FOR DYSPEPSIA they are invaluable. J. T. HAYES."

Mexia, Texas, June 17, 1882.

The REV. FRANCIS B. HARLOWE, writing from Atlanta, Ga., says: "For some years past I have been subject to constipation, from which, in spite of the use of medicines of various kinds, I suffered increasing inconvenience, until some months ago I began taking AYER'S PILLS. They have entirely corrected the costive habit, and have vastly improved my general health."

AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS correct irregularities of the bowels, stimulate the appetite and digestion, and by their prompt and thorough action give tone and vigor to the whole physical economy.

President Arthur's wife was buried in the Rural Cemetery at Albany three years ago. The monument for the grave was finished last week. It is of Italian marble, about eight feet long and two feet high, and rests upon a massive triple pedestal.

Charles D. Seebach, a German bartender, drew a pistol on a crowd of boys who were snowballing him in New York on Sunday night, and fired among them. The bullet struck John Noonan, nine years old, inflicting a fatal wound. Seebach was locked up.

A bill is now pending in the Pennsylvania Legislature making it a penal offence to compel conductors and drivers of horse cars to work more than twelve hours a day. The class of men whom this bill seeks to relieve is almost universally an overworked and underpaid class.

President Magoon of Iowa College, who is a native of Maine, writes: "More than fifty years of struggle in Maine testify to the absolute certainty of the proposition that, whatever may cure intemperance as a private habit, nothing but prohibition will kill the destructive liquor traffic."

The barque Amethyst, which from 1820 to the breaking out of the war was a champion New Bedford whaler, has been since in the merchant service, but now she lies at San Francisco dock, fitting out as an Arctic whaler. She was built in 1820, and is now said to be as sound as when she first struck the water.

It is reported that the coinage of the new five-cent coin is to be suspended at once, the Secret Service men objecting to the piece because by gilding it could be made to resemble a five-dollar gold piece. One side of the coin is a fac-simile of the gold piece mentioned, while the word "cents" does not appear upon it at all.

On a recent morning a horse car was crowded with passengers, and on one of them leaving the car a gentleman was about to sit down, but seeing a lady offered the seat to her and said: "I am from Vermont, and never sit when a lady stands in a horse car." The lady bowed and replied, "I can say I have seen a Vermont gentleman."

Kern County, Cal., has a man who claims to have cured himself of dyspepsia and rejuvenated himself by living on a diet of raw fruit and a coarse ground meal from oats or barley, and also eaten raw. He says his wife and son also live on the same food, and that it only costs a few cents a month to feed himself and family.

For the first time in the memory of the oldest inhabitant navigation on Lake Michigan is completely closed. In many places the lake is covered with ice several feet thick as far out as 25 miles from the shore. The perils of winter navigation have never been so great as during the present season, and many thrilling experiences have occurred.

The Supreme Court of Illinois has decided that no man is obliged to clean off his sidewalk opposite his house or place of business. The case which called forth this decision was that of a resident of Bloomington, who allowed the snow to accumulate in front of his property, and being proceeded against under the city ordinance, appealed to the court.

In 1870 Georgia had thirty-four cotton mills, and in 1882 the number had increased to fifty-three, an increase of nearly sixty per cent. in twelve years. The number of employes increased from 2,846 to 10,434, a gain of nearly four hundred per cent. The capital invested increased from $3,348,265 to $9,000,000 and over, or about 250 per cent. The mills have paid handsome dividends and their capital stock has steadily risen in value from year to year. New manufacturing projects are on foot, and the extensive water power of the State is being gradually utilized.

Dr. J. William White gives these directions to save one who is choking: "Do not lose an instant. Force the mouth open with the handle of a knife or of a strong spoon; push the thumb and fingers deep down into the throat beyond the root of the tongue, and feel for the foreign body. If the obstruction cannot be grasped, a hairpin bent into a hook and guided by the left hand will often bring it out. If this fails, get some one to press against the front of the chest or support it against the edge of a table, and strike several hard, quick blows with the open hand on the back, between the shoulder-blades. Further treatment must be applied by a physician, who should have been immediately sent for."

Earl C. Andrews, Portland, who was ... a few days ago, was very low ... He was speechless, and it was thought he could live but a short time.

STATE NEWS.

Androscoggin.

The Journal says: Two bold house robberies were committed in Lewiston, Monday, while the occupants of the houses were in the mills, at work. The residence of Mr. George Banks on Bates street, was entered, and a gold watch and chain valued at $150, the property of Mrs. Banks, a hood and several other articles of wearing apparel were stolen. About the same time, the house of Mr. Cunningham on Birch street was entered. There the thief got a diamond pin said to be worth $100, and several more pieces of jewelry. The thief evidently obtained ingress by means of skeleton keys. He turned things topsy-turvy through the two houses, rummaging all drawers, closets and trunks. After leaving Mr. Cunningham's house, he relocked the door. The police received information which led them to suspect a fellow in this city, who has had a bad record, and Tuesday forenoon they visited his house with a warrant. His family said he left the house Monday and had not been seen since. His overcoat was hanging in the house, nevertheless. The officers found none of the goods in the house. The person who did these jobs is probably the same one who entered a house on Birch street with a skeleton key, last week, and stole seven dollars in cash.

Cumberland.

Monday evening, Mr. Milton Higgins, in stepping across a stairway at his stable on Heath street, Portland, slipped and fell to the bottom of the stairs, dislocating his shoulder.

David Merrill, of Cornish, came near losing his barn by fire, recently. Some ashes were put in a box in a shed attached to the barn, and a short time after Mr. Merrill discovered that the barn was on fire. By the help of some men who were near by, the barn was saved, but the shed was nearly destroyed. Mr. Merrill lost his house by fire last spring.

There was a fortunate escape from a serious accident on the Portland & Rochester railroad, Tuesday. The locomotive Portland brought the regular train in and carried the mail over to the Grand Trunk Junction. It returned, and just as it was entering the round house, the forward axle broke, dropping off a wheel, and letting the engine down. It was broken so near the journal that it could not have been observed even if examined.

The Press says: A gentleman who owns a tenement house on Munjoy Hill, Portland, failed to rent it last fall, and so concluded that it would have to stand empty through the winter. Last week, supposing, of course, that the house was unoccupied, he went up to look it over and see what repairs he would have to make on it in the spring. When he got there he found each tenement in the building had a family in full possession. The owner inquired the meaning of this, but the only satisfaction he got was a threat to pour hot water on him if he attempted to go in. He retreated in good order, but sent a constable up after the rent. The officer, after much parleying, succeeded in collecting one dollar. He came back to the owner in high dudgeon and wanted immediate authority to get out a writ of ejectment. The owner thought the matter over and said, "No, it's a cold winter and I won't turn them out; they might as well be there as anywhere." So there they are still, and the house shelters an unknown number of men, women and children. It is reasonable to suppose that the rent he will get from them won't much enrich the proprietor.

Franklin.

The Franklin Journal says that Bertie Houghton, of Wilton, was severely injured recently, by being struck on the head by a block of ice thrown by a playmate.

The Record says there is now much complaint of sickness in Wilton and surrounding towns. Violent colds, with pneumonia, neuralgic attacks, erysipelas, measles and bronchial difficulties are prevalent in different neighborhoods, perhaps connected with the peculiar conditions of the weather.

Monday evening, Rev. Jonas Burnham, of Farmington, for many years the honored Principal of Farmington Academy, was about retiring. He had reached the head of the stairs when in some manner he tripped and fell backward to the bottom of the flight. One of his shoulder blades was broken, several severe cuts inflicted about his head besides a general shaking up. Mr. Burnham is over eighty years of age, and it is feared that his injuries may result fatally.

Kennebec.

The remains of the late Capt. Waterhouse, who was killed in the recent railroad disaster in California, reached Gardiner, Tuesday morning. The family of the deceased will soon reach their home in Gardiner.

The Augusta Journal says: The number of telephone subscribers in this section is increasing fast. In this city alone there are 100 subscribers; in Waterville, 40; Skowhegan, 30; Gardiner, 54; Hallowell brings up the rear with but 10.

On Wednesday night last while Edward E. Grant was at work in the paper mill of Richards & Co., Gardiner, he caught one of the fingers on his left hand in the calenders and jammed it off at the first joint.

Orrison Plummer, came near receiving a fatal accident, Monday. He was at work on the pile of logs on J. Gray & Son's wharf, Gardiner, and as the logs rolled down, he was struck in the forehead by the end of one, and knocked senseless. He was seen by some men and was assisted to a physician's where his wound was attended to. No bones were broken, and he escaped very lightly, considering the circumstances.

Oxford.

The wife of Mr. Ivory Evans, proprietor of the Mt. Cutler House, at Hiram, committed suicide, Tuesday forenoon, by hanging. She was found, suspended by the neck, in the barn. She was insane. She leaves two children.

Sagadahoc.

The Times says Mr. Hoxie, night watchman at Rogers' shipyard, Bath, suffered a fall, on Tuesday, that still incapacitates him from work. The fall was of some fifteen feet and his condition is still bad. Mr. Crawford, the man who fell thirty-five feet at the same yard, was over to the yard Saturday.

BOUTELLE & BURR, PROPRIETORS.

C. A. BOUTELLE, EDITOR.

All business letters should be addressed to Boutelle & Burr, and communications intended for publication should be addressed: "Editor of Whig and Courier."

FRIDAY, FEB. 16, 1883.

It is expected that the President will appoint the Civil Service Commission this week. He is quoted as saying so to the West Virginia Congressional delegation.

The report that Senator-elect Sabin of Minnesota will not act with the Republicans because his election was secured by Democratic votes is denied by himself and his political friends.

All eyes are fixed on the Senate now for the next development. A great deal depends upon the fate of the Senate bill, and the form in which it shall pass. It is not too much to say that the entire hope of tariff legislation at this session hangs on the action of the Senate during the next three days.—Wash. Cor. Boston Journal.

The Mexican reciprocity treaty being in some doubt at Washington, General Grant and Mr. Trescott are trying to amend it so as to make it more favorable to the views of the majority of the Senate, but the Mexican Minister at Washington has been obliged to send home to Mexico to obtain power to make the changes in the treaty.

A domestic astronomer has discovered that the sun at the present time is in a state of extraordinary perturbation. Those mysterious spots upon its surface which are in a constant state of flux and reflux are exceptionally large and lively and indicate disturbances of an extensive character. Perhaps there is some connection between this circumstance and the state of the weather of late, and especially with the destructive floods which have taken place on both sides of the Atlantic.

Wilhelm Richard Wagner, the eminent composer, died in Vienna, Tuesday. He was born in Leipsic, in 1813, and his first work, an overture in imitation of Beethoven, was performed when he was nineteen years old. The more notable of his operas were Rienzi, the Flying Dutchman, Tannhauser, Lohengrin, and the Nibelungen. He was a poet, and wrote the librettos as well as the musical score of his operas. There has been much discussion of Wagner's true position in art, which will doubtless be revived by his death.

A Washington special says that there is much satisfaction among Republicans in the House over the announcement that the President is likely to appoint the Hon. Emery Speer United States Attorney for the Northern District of Georgia. Ever since Mr. Speer began to act independently in the House he has been pursued with great bitterness by the Bourbons of his State. Not content with attacking him, they have attempted to ostracize his family. This they carried so far as to take action against his father in order to drive him from his profession.

Our readers will be interested in the Augusta despatches this morning announcing the settlement of the Congressional Apportionment question in the House. When the matter came up the first vote was taken on the motion to recommit the bill, which was rejected by a decisive majority. The different amendments were then voted down and the original bill passed to be engrossed without division. It will be noticed that notwithstanding Mr. Mattocks' attack on the bill the Republicans of Cumberland county, with three exceptions—Messrs. Mattocks, Thomas and Thompson, voted for the bill as reported by the committee. The bill will pass the Senate with little or no opposition.

The Nashville American makes a tearful appeal to the holders of bonds issued by Tennessee to concur in the proposition to accept 60 cents on a dollar and 3 per cent interest. If they do not accept it, "God only knows where it will end." There is nothing difficult in this conundrum, for it will end, as it begun, in repudiation. A State debt is a debt of honor, and Tennessee, like so many other Democratic States, has no honor. No less than fourteen States, all Democratic, have repudiated millions of lawful indebtedness, the aggregate amounting, in round numbers, to $189,000,000. The bondholders are powerless, and must expect still further robbery of the same sort.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

A pronounced protest comes from Democratic sources against the agreement which Mr. Carlisle is said to have made with Mr. Blackburn to leave to the Kentucky delegation the question which of them shall have the support of the State as a candidate for Speaker of the next House. That, it is claimed, is a matter which ought to be settled by the party's entire representation in Congress and not by the delegation from one State. Such a tossing up of pennies for the second greatest office in the Government of the country is not creditable to Mr. Carlisle's political shrewdness, and the truth of the story would be generally doubted were it not published in his home paper, the Covington Commonwealth.

There is to be held in Chicago, next summer, during the month between May 24 and June 23, a national exposition of railway appliances. It is designed, as far as possible, to secure specimens of articles representing the progress in the art of railroad building from its inception in this country until the present time. It is especially desired to obtain as full a collection as possible of old articles pertaining to railway construction and operation, which shall represent by contrast with their modern successors the improvement of the past half century. In no way can the various stages or degrees of progress which have marked the railway history of this country and of the world be more satisfactorily illustrated, or the instructive features of this proposed exhibition be made more valuable to railroad development in every direction, and interesting to the general public, than through such a collection. In the older sections of the country especially, there probably are now preserved many railway appliances which long ago outlived their usefulness and are valuable only as landmarks and curiosities. The committee in charge of the coming Chicago exposition have sent out requests for all who have knowledge of any of such relics to communicate at once with the Secretary, Mr. E. H. Talbott. It is probable that the collection of appliances made will be quite complete, and that the exhibit will prove a vivid illustration of the wonderful progress in railroad building which the last fifty years have seen.

LABOR IN FREE-TRADE ENGLAND

Mr. Robert P. Porter is writing from England to the New York Tribune a series of most instructive letters on the industrial condition of that country. Facts such as he is furnishing are worth volumes of argument based on theories and hypotheses. His latest letter is written from Dewsbury, in the centre of the great woolen manufacturing district of Yorkshire. This description of Dewsbury as a typical woolen factory town is interesting:

The hotels are such only in name. The "Royal," the "Scarboro," the "Wellington," on a visit faded into second class public houses. Not a respectable hotel in the town, and yet it has 30,000 inhabitants. The streets were narrow and crooked, beer shops and gin shops on every corner, no less than 150 being required to quench the diurnal thirst of the inhabitants of the town—one to every 200 souls, including babies. The windows of the clothing shops displayed only corduroy and duck suits and blue check shirts. Dewsbury booksellers retail books very much as the costermonger of the Seven Dials sells vegetables Saturday night, by the aid of flaring lights, the books being piled on empty packing boxes. In and around the public houses loiter the men without a job, and at the entrances of the numerous little courts, alleys and passages insufficiently-clad women shivered and gossiped. The factories are large gray stone buildings walled in like prisons, with vigilant porters stationed at all the entrances lest strangers should accidentally get into the factories and appropriate the new designs or otherwise find out some thing of their internal economy. The manufacturers seem about as hard and sharp as the machines which weave their mungo and shoddy into cloth. The hands are ground down to the lowest penny and a recent strike among the operatives brought out the fact that the average earnings of all hands including the high priced overseers and foremen, was only 16 shillings, or $4 a week, at Dewsbury and Batley. The rent of one or two rooms in the poorest locality of the town, is $17 a year. These immense factories straggle along on the outskirts of Dewsbury for many miles, and without exaggeration might be said to extend in all directions for a distance of twenty two and one-half miles, with Dewsbury for a centre.

Mr. Porter then discusses the social surroundings of the industrial masses of the great Yorkshire woolen district. Crime abounds, especially those of a brutal character, such as wife and child-beating and it takes an army of 2,000 policemen to maintain order and decency among this underpaid and under educated laboring population. We are told sometimes by the enemies of the American protective system that the well-worn phrase, "the pauper labor of Europe" is nothing but a piece of empty and meaningless clap-trap. Mr. Porter tells us, however, that it has a very real meaning, and expresses an absolutely pitiable state of affairs. In this district alone 58,000 working people last year received relief under the Poor Law. Will Americans credit the fact, he asks, that in the narrow limits of less than an area of 600 square miles the following workhouse accommodation is thought necessary?

Place.	Capacity of Workhouse.	Place.	Capacity of Workhouse.
Bradford	778	Wakefield	360
Dewsbury	399	Wetherby	80
Doncaster	300	Saddleworth	200
Halifax	465	Barnsley	293
Huddersfield	450	Otley	100
Keighley	268	Bramley	214
Knaresboro	150	N Bierly	326
Leeds, 2	964	Honley	203
	4 0	Penistone	11
Pontefract	200	Ecclesfield	2?0
Rotherham	295	Ecclesball	490
Selby	189	Hemsworth	95
Sheffield	750	Holbeck	119
Skipton	200

"And these are the 'unions' of the woolen region," concludes Mr. Porter "with accommodations amply sufficient for the poor worn out mechanic, working for a pittance out of which nothing can be saved, with no future, only at the close of life to exchange the quick rattle of the shuttle and the spindle for the dull thud of the English Poor law."

INGALLS-PATTON UNPLEASANTNESS

REPLY OF THE EDITOR OF THE BAPTIST WEEKLY TO THE SENATOR'S STRICTURES.

Rev. A. S. Patton, D. D., editor of the Baptist Weekly, has written the following response to a letter of Senator Ingalls commenting severely on an editorial which appeared in that journal in reference to the Senator's remarks in the Senate on the late Ben Hill of Georgia.

OFFICE OF THE BAPTIST WEEKLY, NEW YORK, Feb. 12, 1883.

Hon. John J. Ingalls, United States Senate:

Sir—I had occasion recently to express the opinion that ungentlemanliness was not a characteristic of all unbelievers, and remarked that "while infidelity degraded the ignorant, here were those whose advantages of Christian education and associations served to keep them on a higher moral plane than their principles recognized." A most conspicuous exception to this position, however, is furnished in the spiteful and revengeful tone of your letter just received.

Having given you full credit for your doubts on the subject of a future life, I simply characterized your remarks in the commemorative services of the late Benjamin H. Hill, as "heathen talk in Congress," and, in proof of the position quoted liberally from your speech. While frankly conceding your right to express such sentiments on ordinary occasions, I said "that to do so in connection with the solemn commemorative services of a Christian Senator, was a piece of pure impertinence," and charged you with presuming to ventilate your unbelief under circumstances utterly inconsistent with sincere respect for the Christian character of the dead Senator. As the Washington correspondent of the Kansas City Times says:

"I do not question the right of Mr. Ingalls to be a scoffer and doubter upon matters of religion, nor his privilege to question the immortality of the soul nor the great hereafter. Mr. Ingalls possesses the constitutional privilege to be an infidel an agnostic, a disciple of Voltaire and a very poor imitator of the unbelieving eloquence of Bob Ingersoll. But the Senate is not the forum wherefrom to preach sermons on infidelity, nor should the occasion of memorial services upon a deceased colleague be embraced to question, as did Mr. Ingalls, whether 'if a man die shall he live again?'"

But now you attempt to make the impression that you "suggested the argument of immortality, based upon the imperfection and incompleteness of all earthly careers," and, in regard to the dead Senator, you claim to have said, "though his sun went down at noon, it sank amid the prophetic splendors of an eternal dawn." Just what you mean by an "eternal dawn" is beyond my comprehension. But this you most emphatically declared, that the problem of mortal life and human destiny was "unsolved and insoluble," and of Mr. Hill you said,—"Whether his apathetic and unconscious ashes still sleep in cold obstruction or insensible oblivion we do not know." That such utterances are "heathenish" is too manifest to require proof. They create the impression that you had been assisted in the preparation of your speech by a fresh perusal of one of your old text books, where Cicero, speaking of the two ideas of immortality and non-existence, says,—"Which of these is true God only knows; and which is most probable a very great question. When I read the writings of Socrates and Plato I assent to immortality, but when I have laid down the book all that assent vanishes."

In exact agreement with these conflicting conjectures and this lamentable hesitation and doubt were your remarks, and I consider the term "heathenish" only a fitting one to characterize your sentiments.

As to your concluding personal and ungracious allusions, in which you class me with "bigoted slanderers and malignant liars," I have nothing to say, except that they are such terms as a true gentleman would not use, especially in addressing one to whom he condescends to subscribe himself "with great respect, your obedient servant." And if your only alternative is to be a "heathen and an infidel" rather than a Christian, because I am, in your esteem, an unworthy representative of the name, I most sincerely deplore the forfeiture of your "great respect."

In return for your cruel wish that I may be doomed to "eternal punishment," permit me to express the hope that you may attain repentance unto life, and putting away all malice, evil speaking, bribery and corrupt practices, finally be welcomed to the glorious rewards of the eternal hereafter. Yours, truly,

A. S. PATTON.

SUNDRY CIVIL APPROPRIATION BILL.

The Sundry Civil Appropriation bill has been reported to the full Committee on Appropriations and one session has been held by that committee upon it. The total amount carried by the bill is about $22,000,000. Among the items are: For Post Office and Sub-Treasury of Boston $100,000; for storage of silver, constructing, repairing, enlarging and renting vaults and safes and transportation of silver dollars, $100,000. Upon this an animated debate may be expected. The appropriation for the Signal Service is brought from the Army bill into this one to the extent of $600,000 and is carefully itemized so as to prevent the misuse of any portion of the money. One of the items is for observation and exploration in the arctic seas, $33,000. The appropriation for the National Homes for disabled volunteer soldiers is, for the Dayton branch, $603,000, for branch at Togus, Me., the item appropriates $3,000. For the protection and improvement of Yellowstone Park is coupled with the following proviso: "That the Secretary of the Interior in his discretion may grant leases for terms not exceeding ten years of small parcels of ground within said park, but no more ground shall be so leased than is necessary for the hotels and storehouses necessary for the accommodation of visitors and necessary outhouses and bath and ice houses and for garden and grazing lands in connection with the hotels, but no exclusive privileges or monopoly of any kind shall be granted to any person or corporation for any purpose within the park; nor shall any lease or contract be made which interferes or prevents the free and unrestricted access of the public to all portions of the park."

Representative Robinson, of New York, has now a splendid opportunity for another twist at the tail of the British lion. One of his constituents has actually been arrested and locked up by the blue-coated agents of a tyrannical monarchy in London. It is true that the individual is a sort of a crank tailor from Broadway and that he has been acting suspiciously in unbecoming attire in the British metropolis, but this would hardly modify Mr. Robinson's righteous wrath. The fact a sober that the man has been released on his own recognizance to behave better in future, will hardly mitigate the outrage from a Robinsonian standpoint. We may expect another indignant speech on the floor of the House, and a demand for diplomatic correspondence leading to ample reparation. The gentleman from New York has been quite apathetic lately, but this will surely stir him up.—North American.

The Augusta correspondent of the Boston Journal writes: The Democrats and Greenback Representatives in favor of fusing interests to gain a victory in the next campaign have sent out an address of sixty-one words to the union voters of the State, recommending them to keep up old organizations. This, one of the most prominent of the Fusion members told the Journal's representative this evening, is intended as a preliminary attempt to scare the Republican party, which so demoralized them in the last campaign, and the address will never be heard from again. It goes forth unsigned, though starting with "We, the Representatives, and no member of the opposition proposes to commit himself enough to do so lest it react upon him. The opposition has not recovered from its demoralization, and before the time for holding conventions arrives may want to form new political relationships, but at present, urged by letters from their constituents inquiring where their party is, the Representatives here have adopted this make-shift.

"WILD REVERBERATIONS!" About the wildest of them is the statement that there is a better boot in the market than the time tried favorite that we are agents for, and anyone that will swallow such yarns, would probably accept a mining circular as Gospel truth. Don't believe any such trash, for there IS NO BOOT MADE that can approach for Elegance, Style and Durability, the Goods for Ladies wear, MADE BY E. C. BURT. We are not converts to the theory that it is economy to stop advertising in dull times, and in the words of the poet (and an advertisement now-a-days does not amount to much unless it contains a poetical allusion or shows that you browse in the back part of a Dictionary). "We count that week lost whose low descending sun, Sees no new advertisement by Thurston begun." Therefore "Men may come and men may go, but we propose to go right on advising you of our special bargains, among which are the Celebrated Curtis Goods, for gentlemen's wear, which will please all lovers of fine shoes, and of the well known fact that our shelves hold as fine a line of goods as any store in Maine, and that we sell our goods as LOW as any cash on the spot store or any other that has to pay for their goods. A SECOND-STORY BURGLAR.

Captured by Brave Girl Students on Murray Hill

NEW YORK, Feb 15 Joseph Gleason, a "second story" burglar, endeavored to enter the private boarding school of Miss Mary H Norris on Murray Hill, through a second story window directly over the front door He was discovered, and teacher and pupils rushed out, seized him by the legs as they dangled from the window, and pulled him to the steps. He attempted to pull a pistol, but the negro butler of the school seized him. Then two men tried to rescue him, but passers-by came up and they fled. Gleason was dragged into the hall and two willing strangers who came in from the street sat on his hands and feet as he lay flat on his back on the floor. The police were summoned. A big revolver and skeleton keys and a jimmy and a chisel were found on his person He has already served a term of five years, so that he is very likely to be retired for at least 20 years But for the energy and strength of the young women of the school, Gleason would have escaped. They clung to him like leeches, and fairly overpowered him

VAMPIRES IN CANADA.

A Series of Cemetery Robberies in the Vicinity of Montreal.

MONTREAL, Que., Feb. 15. Notwithstanding the strong feeling of public indignation which exists against the perpetrators of recent outrages in cemeteries of the country districts surrounding Montreal, the traffic in bodies continues, and it is thought that a number of men are systematically engaged in it. On the night of Saturday last, a party of men from across the border visited a cemetery in the village of St. Ann Des Plains, and stole from the vaults four bodies recently placed there. On the following night the same men visited, it is thought, a cemetery in St. John and stole two bodies. Yesterday morning a third robbery was committed, this time at St. Paul, Dermite, two bodies being taken. A feature of this series of robberies is that the bodies stolen are all those of persons who have died of peculiar diseases. The robbers are believed to be making a business of taking subjects across the line to the medical colleges in New England, where they get their own prices for all they can bring. It is known that very high prices are paid across the line for bodies by medical schools. It has been ascertained that all the above-mentioned subjects were shipped from here yesterday morning. The police have information as to the identity of the resurrectionists.

REASSEMBLING OF PARLIAMENT.

The Queen's Address.

LONDON Feb. 15. Parliament reassembled to-day. The Queen in her speech opening the session refers to the maintenance of the good relations with foreign powers. Referring to the restoration of tranquility in Egypt, she says the withdrawal of British troops is proceeding as expeditiously as a prudent consideration of circumstances admits. The reconciliation of the government of Egypt under the Khedive has been partly accomplished and continues to receive her earnest attention. She has submitted to the Sultan and the powers for their friendly consideration arrangements which appeared best fitted to ensure the stability of the Khedive's Government, prosperity and happiness of the Egyptians, security of the canal and of the peace of Eastern Europe Her policy has been and will be directed to those objects. She relies upon its just application by other countries.

Referring to Zululand, she says the possibility of the removal of disorder there has engaged her attention. She hopes the restoration of Cetewayo will lead to the establishment of a more stable government and maintenance of good relations between the Zulu nation and Cape Colony. Estimates for the coming year are in a forward state of preparation and soon will be submitted

She refers to the time devoted in recent years by Parliament for the most urgent needs of Ireland and says the claim of general legislation and of other parts of the kingdom now demand just regard. She trusts, however, that Parliament will be able to deal with some legislative wants of Ireland for which provision is not yet made

XLVII CONGRESS—Second Session.

Senate

WASHINGTON, Feb 15. Mr Hoar presented joint resolutions of the Legislature of Massachusetts in regard to the termination of the portion of the treaty of Washington relating to fisheries.

Mr. Morrill presented a remonstrance against any reduction of the tariff on books below 25 per cent, signed by Oliver Wendell Holmes T B. Aldrich and John G Whittier, as writers of books, basing their objections on the ground of injury to their American publishers, further that the effect will be to force American publishers into a publication of those copyright books only whose reputation have already been made or of those which serve professional uses as reports of courts and school books, fifth, that the higher literature will be discouraged and the greatest volume of our current literature which is in the form of reading for the young will be guided by foreign authorities instead of men and women of their own nation

A resolve, by Mr. Blair, to prevent any vacancy in the U S Senate, from New Hampshire, which might result from the arrangement of the sessions of the New Hampshire Legislature, went over till to-morrow. The morning business being concluded, Mr Morrill called up the Tariff bill. Mr Edmunds thought the necessities of public business and justice demanded a brief Executive session, which was held. When the doors were opened the Senate resumed consideration of the Tariff bill

Mr. Beck offered as a substitute for his amendment offered last evening, providing that hereafter none of the charges imposed by the sections 2 907 and 2 908, Revised Statutes, or any other provisions of the existing law shall be estimated in ascertaining the value of goods to be imported, nor shall the value of the usual and necessary sacks, crates, bags or coverings of any kind be estimated as part of their value in determining the amount of duty, unless they are used with intention to evade the duties thereon, and then they shall be subject to a duty of 100 per cent ad valorem upon the actual value The amendment thus modified was agreed to

Mr Morrill gave notice that if the bill should not be passed to-day, he would ask the Senate to sit long enough to-morrow to dispose of it The Senate proceeded to consider certain portions of the bill which have been temporarily passed over. Mr McPherson moved to take up the paragraph embracing iron ore, which had been passed over at the request of Mr Conger Mr McPherson moved to make the rate $1 per ton on foreign ores

After considerable debate the motion was lost. Mr. Conger moved to make the duty 75 cents per ton, lost. Mr. Mitchell moved to make the rate 60 cents per ton, lost The proviso adopted in the committee, on motion of Mr. Allison, as an amendment to the salt paragraph, was agreed to. It provides for the refund of duties paid on imported salt used in curing meats afterwards exported.

An amendment was adopted providing that imported salt in bond may be used in curing fish taken by vessels licensed to engage in fisheries and in curing fish on shares on navigable waters of the United States under such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury shall prescribe, and that upon proof of the use of the salt for either of the purposes stated in the proviso the duty upon it shall be remitted The section prescribing the oaths to be taken by importers was adopted. All the reserved paragraphs having been disposed of the bill was open to amendments generally.

Mr. Bayard moved to insert in the metal schedule the following "Iron or steel sheets or plates, galvanized or coated by any process with zinc or spelter or an alloy of those metals commercially known as galvanized sheet metal or sheet steel 2½ cents per pound"

On motion of Mr Ransom the internal revenue on cigarettes weighing not more than 3 pounds per thousand, was reduced from 75 to 50 cents per thousand. The discussion of the rice tariff provoked an agressive speech by Mr. Voorhees. After further debate and a lively spat between Messrs Ingalls and Butler, the motion to reduce the duty on rice to 45 per cent which had been made by Mr. Ingalls, was lost. Mr. Conger offered an amendment laying an additional duty of half of one cent per pound on charcoal iron further advanced in manufacture than iron pigs. With this amendment pending, the Senate at 10.25 P. M., adjourned.

House.

Mr. Williams submitted a conference report on the Japanese Indemnity fund bill and after debate the report was agreed to. The House then went into Committee of the Whole on the Tariff bill and consideration of schedule "E," sugar, was entered upon. Mr Van Voorhees, of New York moved to strike out the first paragraph imposing a duty of 1 25-100 cents per pound He did this with the purpose of moving to place sugar on the free list.

Mr. Candler, of Massachusetts, gave notice of an amendment which he proposed to offer placing a duty of 25 per cent ad valorem on sugar up to No. 13, Dutch standard, and 35 per cent on sugar above No. 13. Mr. Ray, of New Hampshire offered an amendment placing sugar on the free list, but providing for a bounty of 2 cents a pound to the producer of domestic sugar, ruled out on a point of order. Mr Reed moved to fix a duty of 33 per cent as the duty on sugars not above No. 13 Dutch standard; lost. Mr. Candler offered an amendment imposing a duty of 35 per cent ad valorem on all sugars not above and of 45 per cent. on all sugars above No. 13, Dutch standard. Mr. Carlisle raised a point of order and pending the decision the committee rose and at 5 30 P. M. the House took a recess till 7 30 P M

The House resumed in Committee of the Whole, consideration of the Legislative Appropriation bill, and after considering 80 of the 92 pages of the bill the committee rose and the House at 10.30 P. M. adjourned.

"PROF SAM." Colby University has a colored janitor by the name of "Sam" who is well known as a character and a wag The Somerset Reporter tells the following good story of him Some time ago "Sam" was induced to subscribe a certain sum of money in aid of some good cause and has not found it convenient to adjust it. The paper with Sam's name on it for this amount was in the hands of Prof. ——— who lately happened into the office of the financial officer of the University and learned that "Sam" had just received a check for a month's salary. It occurred to him that the long delayed opportunity for collecting the subscription had arrived and he forthwith sought an interview with the delinquent, urging him to "fork over." "Sam" told the Professor that his other liabilities had absorbed his salary and he could not adjust the subscription, but he would pay it "shearb" just as soon as he could "raise the wind." Prof. ——— somewhat exasperated, at repeated refusals, told "Sam" in plain terms that he was a fraud and had lied to him about the matter quite enough. "Sam," nothing daunted, came to time promptly. "Why!" said he, "Why! what a remark for one professor to make about another!" Prof ——— did not further pursue the subject. He had business elsewhere.

A Discussion Before the Bangor Board of Trade.

In pursuance of a call, signed by ten members of the Bangor Board of Trade, a meeting was held yesterday afternoon to discuss the "Bodwell Water Power Bill," now pending before the Legislature, in its bearings to the interests of the City of Bangor At 4 o'clock a large gathering assembled in the Common Council room, and the assemblage was called to order by Hon Henry Lord, President of the Board Before the commencement of business, the Council room was so crowded that many could not be accommodated and an adjournment was made to the City Hall, where the meeting was resumed, a very large representation of our prominent business men being in attendance.

The President announced that the meeting was ready to attend to business, and R S Morison, Esq, called upon Wm. H. McCrillis, Esq, to present the subject. A motion was made that before proceeding further the "Bodwell Water Power Bill" be read, and the same was done by Mr Charles S. Pearl. Mr McCrillis then took the floor and addressed the meeting. He said Oldtown Falls is the key to the useful navigation of the Penobscot the key to the mills at Great Works, Basin, Veazie, and below our city, and the key to the great lumber industry upon which the trade, commerce and exports of our city largely depend Now if the logs cannot be run over these falls you cannot manufacture lumber at the mills below and the great industry will languish The speaker affirmed that the bill clothes the company with absolute and unqualified power to prevent navigation during two or three months of drouth each season Section 12 of the bill provides that nothing contained in this section shall hinder or delay driving logs through the sluice at Oldtown Falls, but the Corporation might do anything to hinder or delay by drawing water through canals authorized by Section 2 The word act should be substituted in place of section so that it shall read nothing contained in this act should authorize the corporation to hinder and delay the driving of logs over the Oldtown Falls and it might then be effective, otherwise it is a delusion

Hon A W Paine was called upon and addressed the meeting He said he spoke simply as a citizen only knew about the meeting a few minutes prior to coming here and was entirely unfamiliar with the contents of the bill He had taken deep interest in the prospect of manufacturing enterprises being established at Oldtown through the instrumentality of Mr. Bodwell, and believed in offering encouragement The subject is one of intense interest to Bangor, and it has been his hope to see built up in this vicinity a thriving manufacturing centre like Lewiston, Biddeford, Lowell, Lawrence and some other New England cities. He had only perused the bill during the brief time he had been in the hall, but he failed to see objectionable features in it.

J P Bass, Esq, thought they should not attempt too hasty action and should give both sides ample time to discuss the matter

Hon Lysander Strickland said the impression must not be gained that the lumber manufacturers are opposed to the Bodwell Water Power Company. All the various mill owners want is that they shall be protected in their rights

C P Stetson, Esq, in response to calls, said he had had occasion to investigate the subject when he recently appeared before the Committee on Interior Waters, in the interest of parties in Orono The Penobscot is a great public highway, and it is of the highest importance that its navigation be preserved. The speaker said he would grant the company all the privileges that do not conflict with public rights

Hon Lysander Strickland moved that a committee of two, consisting of Wm. T Pearson and Llewellyn J. Morse, be authorized to make such amendments as they deem proper and present them to the Legislature. The motion was subsequently amended that the committee should report at an adjourned meeting of the Board of Trade and an adjournment was made to 3 P M, Saturday

Tickets purchased of the letter carriers can be exchanged for coupon tickets, at the same time without extra charge

Notes

One evening last week Mrs. Annie Louise Cary Raymond occupied a box in the Chestnut street Opera House in Philadelphia. She was looking remarkably well and held quite a levee during the intermissions. Her voice is entirely restored, but she says she will never again sing in public.

Bangor Auxiliary of the Woman's Board of Missions

The February meeting was held in the vestry of the Hammond street church, Wednesday afternoon There were several interesting papers prepared and read on the missions in the early Christian centuries. The ninth annual report of the Maine Branch, has the following notice of the Penobscot Branch

Amid the great needs of a scantily populated frontier, we honor the purpose of the smaller churches in this Conference that seek to advance in all the lines of Christian work.

The Auxiliary of Bangor has had the great honor of giving to the foreign field two young and gifted ladies, and the echo of the last farewells have scarcely died upon the ear. A gift, like this will be returned in hundred-fold blessing We remember, other like precious gifts laid on the altar here, Miss Hamlin of the Constantinople Home, and Mrs. Riggs, of the Dakota Mission. It has been the privilege of this Auxiliary to minister to Mrs. Snow, Mrs. Wheeler and Mrs Reynolds while they tarried with them

We find in this conference those who form intelligent knowledge of foreign countries and intense interest in the missionary cause are able to lead others, and also patient self-sacrificing workers and generous givers, from whose abundant sowing fruit may be expected. Missionary interest is strengthened here also, by those who prepare original papers, and by missionary letters received from their own missionaries, Mrs. Wheeler and Miss Harris, The prayer of those who remain is, that the consecration of those who go may be reflected on them, and they rise to more and better service in the good work.

The Observer says: They are to have a new highway from the Forks of the Kennebec to the west line of Shirley, when that town will pay the whole cost over the $1000 which the Legislative committee recommends the Legislature to appropriate for this purpose.

FROM AROOSTOOK.

Houlton Items

A correspondent writes Houlton boasts of the best appointed shingle mill in the State. It is the new mill replacing the one burned in October last, owned by Mr. F N. Titcomb. Six machines are now running day and night, and the annual product promises to be not less than 50 000, 000 feet.

If some equally enterprising men would set up a suitable establishment for turning the splendid maple, birch and ash of Aroostook into furniture it would unquestionably prove a good investment.

The drought is becoming quite oppressive through the county Cisterns are failing, there having been no rain to replenish them since November

Theodore Cary, the proprietor of the Aroostook Times, having sold the block containing his present printing office, will shortly fit up a new building on Court street for his business

One of the pleasantest social occasions of the winter was the genuine "surprise" given on the evening of Feb 13th to the pastor of the Congregational church, the Rev. B. P. Snow and family. In their temporary absence some hundred of their parishioners took possession of their dwelling and on the return of the occupants, showed their determination to hold the fort for the time being A delightful evening was passed, and the friends of the pastor left substantial token of good will in the form of $60 in money, and many well chosen and valuable articles for household use and comfort

The Spring term of the Academy will commence Feb 26th, and there is promise of a large attendance of students

JURY FIXERS CAUGHT.

One Way to Get Money.

The consultation of Inspector Byrnes and Assistant District-Attorney O'Bryne with a prisoner at Police Headquarters, New York, on Friday night, was explained later, when additional arrests were made and the action of a corrupt ring of clerks in the office of the Commissioner of Jurors was made public. Commissioner Caulfield told District-Attorney McKeon about three months ago that he suspected that some clerks were extorting money from business men. Mr. McKeon had observed and inquired about articles in the Tribune alleging that there were frauds in the existing system of selecting jurors, and had complained that it seemed to be impossible to get jurors who came up to the standard of intelligence expected when jurors were supposed to be drawn at random.

It was believed that many intelligent business men were permitted to escape performing jury duty by paying sums of money to clerks under the Commissioner of Jurors. Mr. Caulfield said that his suspicions had been directed particularly against William F. McGrath, a former clerk of record, whom he had noticed frequently in his office. Acting upon the advice of Mr. McKeon, Mr. Caulfield went to Police Headquarters and consulted with Superintendent Walling and Inspector Byrnes. Mr. Walling detailed two patrol men from up-town precincts to work under the direction of Mr. Caulfield.

The policemen for several weeks spent their time in "shadowing" McGrath. They noticed that he was much in the company of Patrick Cunningham, a clerk in Mr. Caulfield's office. The two men were together both at night and in the daytime. McGrath went about the city, visiting the stores and offices of business men. The officers paid visits afterward, and learned enough to make it certain that the business men had paid money to McGrath to escape performing jury duty. Detective-Sergeants visited many merchants, who admitted having given money to McGrath. It was ascertained that McGrath had visited about 1,000 business men, with varying success.

Affidavits were made by the policemen, and Judge Cowing issued warrants for the arrest of McGrath and Cunningham. McGrath was arrested near his home early in the evening and taken directly to Police Headquarters. Commissioner Caulfield and Mr. O'Byrne afterwards went to Police Headquarters and McGrath was confronted with them. The prisoner at once made a confession which inculpated Cunningham, A. J. Keegan, Deputy Commissioner of Jurors, and J. M. Jarvis, the first assistant in the office. Cunningham was arrested on the stoop of McGrath's house later in the night, but it was decided not to arrest Keegan and Jarvis until additional warrants could be obtained. They were arrested later, and in company with McGrath and Cunningham were arraigned in the Tombs Police Court. Commissioner Caulfield made charges of malfeasance in office against Keegan, Jarvis and Cunningham, and the charges were sustained by sworn confessions of McGrath, who was charged with bribery. The prisoners were held in $1,000 bail each for an examination.

At McGrath's house were found long lists of names of business men who had paid money to the ring. Many letters were found in his possession also, some of the writers stating that they had paid money to be excused from jury duty and still they had been served with notices. The letters "C," "P" and "K," appeared frequently on the lists. Detectives said they meant "collect," "paid" and "kicked." It was said that when lists of jurors were drawn the men in the ring in Mr. Caulfield's office would select from 500 names placed in the wheel about 100 names of men whose business addresses indicated that their time was valuable. Notices would be made out and McGrath would call on the men, representing himself as a messenger from Mr. Caulfield's office. It is said that most of the merchants thus visited have paid from $25 to $100 each to escape the duty which they thought they had been summoned to perform. McGrath was expected to give one-half of what he received to his confederates. Cunningham, however, had private lists and visited merchants on his own account.

In conversation with a Tribune reporter Commissioner Caulfield said that his suspicions were excited some time ago by publications in the Tribune, that there was a ring in his office engaged in receiving money to excuse persons from serving as jurors. The salaries of his office were now paid from the city treasury, the same as those of all other employes. The fines for non-attendance of persons drawn as jurors and the fees for exemption were very small, and he could account for it only on the supposition that much of the money thus received was not accounted for. About November 1, 1882, he informed District-Attorney McKeon of his suspicions, and they called on Inspector Byrnes. He detailed two men on the case and a close watch was kept on the suspected men. Mr. McGrath was followed and seen to collect money from business men. He was afterward seen to give money to Keegan, Jarvis and Cunningham, presumably a portion of that obtained from the persons whom he visited.

A search warrant was procured, and McGrath's room was visited. In it was found a book containing more than 1,000 names of business and professional men. Mr. Caulfield added that there was no doubt that this business had been carried on for a long time, and that the city had lost a good many thousand dollars. "The scheme is entirely broken up now," he said. "The lists of those liable to do jury duty will be revised. Keegan, Cunningham and Jarvis will be proceeded against under section 27 of the Penal Code, which provides that any public official receiving money for any account not authorized by law shall be punishable by a fine of $5,000 or imprisonment for ten years or both. McGrath is arraigned under section 78 of the Penal Code, which provides that any person who gives any money to influence officials "shall be punished in like manner as the officials whom he bribes."

Deputy Commissioner Keegan has been in the office of the Commissioner of Jurors about ten years. He is a member of the County Democracy County Committee from the XVth District. Patrick Cunningham was for several years a member of the Tammany Hall General Committee from the XVIIIth District. When George Caulfield was made Commissioner of Jurors Cunningham's political opinions changed to the extent of inducing him to become a member of the County Democracy. J. M. Jarvis has not been prominent in politics. William T. McGrath is a lawyer but does not practise. He is about forty-two years old.

Several years ago he was a member of the Tammany Hall General Committee, but for a long time he has been connected with no political organization. He is well-known in sporting circles being at one time secretary of the Mutual Baseball Club, and a member of one of the North River rowing clubs. About three years ago McGrath, who was then a clerk in the office of the Commissioner of Jurors, was dismissed by Thomas Dunlap, then Commissioner, because he wished to reduce the expenses of the office. It was originally intended to dismiss Cunningham, but McGrath, very generously, as it was thought at the time, volunteered to vacate his place, provided Cunningham was allowed to stay.

It is conjectured that McGrath was afraid that ultimately a new man might be brought in who would spoil the game of the ring. McGrath, after his release on bail, said that he could not be convicted of any offence. He declared that he was a practising lawyer, with a desk in an office at Nos. 4 and 6 Warren St., and that what he had done was simply as a lawyer to save his clients from an unpleasant and onerous duty.

Commissioner Caulfield has appointed as his deputy James Connors, a member of the County Democracy of the IIId Assembly District, in place of Keegan, and a son of Assistant District-Attorney O'Bryne in place of Cunningham. He declined at present to make public the names of persons who had paid McGrath for exemption from jury duty other than those given in the affidavits. The complete list contains the names of many members of the Stock and Produce Exchanges, and other business men.

Mr. Caulfield will at once direct all the persons whose names appear on McGrath's lists to appear at the office of the Commissioner of Jurors and show cause why they should not perform jury duty. Whether proceedings will be taken against those who have paid money to be released from serving as jurors is a matter for further consideration by the District-Attorney. Mr. Caulfield thinks that the confederates collected and divided among themselves from $30,000 to $40,000 per year. When Keegan was informed that he was under arrest he professed to think himself hardly used, and told Mr. Caulfield that "the thing could have been fixed in another way." He was informed that the law must now take its course.

Rev. Father Wilds' EXPERIENCE.

The Rev. Z. P. Wilds, well-known city missionary in New York, and brother of the late eminent Judge Wilds, of the Massachusetts Supreme Court, writes as follows:

"78 E. 54th St., New York, May 16, 1882.

MESSRS. J. C. AYER & Co. Gentlemen:

Last winter I was troubled with a most uncomfortable itching humor affecting more especially my limbs, which itched so intolerably at night, and burned so intensely, that I could scarcely bear any clothing over them. I was also a sufferer from a severe catarrh and catarrhal cough; my appetite was poor and my system a good deal run down. Knowing the value of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, by observation of many other cases, and from personal use in former years, I began taking it for the above-named disorders. My appetite improved almost from the first dose. After a short time the fever and itching were allayed, and all signs of irritation of the skin disappeared. My catarrh and cough were also cured by the same means, and my general health greatly improved, until it is now excellent. I feel a hundred per cent stronger, and I attribute these results to the use of the SARSAPARILLA, which I recommend with all confidence as the best blood medicine ever devised. I took it in small doses three times a day, and used, in all, less than two bottles. I place these facts at your service, hoping their publication may do good.

Yours respectfully, Z. P. WILDS."

The above instance is but one of the many constantly coming to our notice, which prove the perfect adaptability of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA to the cure of all diseases arising from impure or impoverished blood, and a weakened vitality.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

cleanses, enriches, and strengthens the blood, stimulates the action of the stomach and bowels, and thereby enables the system to resist and overcome the attacks of all Scrofulous Diseases, Eruptions of the Skin, Rheumatism, Catarrh, General Debility, and all disorders resulting from poor or corrupted blood and a low state of the system.

ELIXIR

For the cure of

and all diseases of the Throat, Chest, and Lungs. In all cases where this Elixir is used its efficacy is at once manifested, convincing the most incredulous that is not incurable, if properly attended to.—At its commencement it is but a slight irritation of the membrane which covers the Lungs; then an inflammation, when the cough is rather dry, local fever, and the pulse more frequent, the cheeks flushed and chills more common. This Elixir in curing the above complaints, operates so as to remove all morbid irritations and inflammation from the lungs to the surface, and finally expel them from the system. It facilitates expectoration.

It heals the ulcerated surfaces and relieves the cough and makes the breathing easy. It supports the strength and at the same time reduces the fever. It is free from strong opiate and astringent articles, which are of so drying a nature as to be in great danger of destroying the patient; whereas this medicine never dries or stops the cough, but, by removing the cause, consequently, when the cough is cured the patient is well. Send address for pamphlet giving full directions, free.

Price 35 cts., 50 cts., and $1 00 per bottle.

NO USE FOR THEM.

Concerning Certain Relics of the Past—Dogs that have had their Day.

George Stephenson's "Rocket," and the magnificent locomotives of to-day, are built upon the same general principle, yet the machine with which the great engineer astonished his age, is interesting now only as an illustration of the beginning of the invention. There were plasters with holes in them long before BENSON'S CAPCINE POROUS PLASTER surprised both the public and the physicians, and the triumph of the Capcine is founded upon the partial successes, or the utter failures of its predecessors. Everything of value in the old porous plaster is retained in the Capcine, but at this point all comparison ends, and contrast begins. For example:

The old plasters were slow in their action; the Capcine is quick and sure.

The old plasters lacked the power to do more than to impart slight, temporary relief in cases easy of treatment; the Capcine penetrates the system and permanently cures the troubles for which it is recommended.

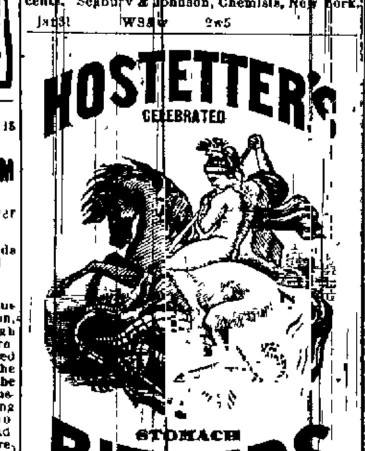

The old plasters depended for any good results they might attain, upon an accident of their makers and the naked faith of their wearers; the Benson's reaches its ends by means of the scientific combination of the rare medicinal ingredients which it contains.

In brief, the old plasters, like Stephenson's discarded engine, are switched off the track, while the Benson's goes on its way winning golden opinions from all sorts of people.

Yet in this very fact lies the leading danger to the people who buy and use this reliable and scientific remedy. "Hypocrisy is the tribute vice pays to virtue." Imitation is the concession failure makes to success. Benson's Plasters are parodied in name and style.

Beware of swindles. The genuine have the word CAPCINE cut in the centre. Price 25 cents. Seabury & Johnson, Chemists, New York.
